

Credit Unions Serving Maryland and Washington, DC Area Members

Credit unions, as they did during last year's federal government shutdown and the financial crisis in 2008, are helping members navigate the uncertainty surrounding the COVID-19 outbreak. Credit unions have taken steps to ensure health protocols are followed in branches and are raising awareness about COVID-19 scams. To minimize disruption to members' daily lives, credit unions are encouraging members to use online and mobile banking, drive-thru and ATMs as banking options. For those members experiencing financial hardship, credit unions are offering a variety of assistance programs such as low-interest loans, skip-a-payment programs, fee waivers, payday alternative loans and financial counseling.
